NEW PLANNING LAWYER AT BELL & SCOTT

Jamie Hunter has joined Bell & Scott's highly regarded Strategic Land Team demonstrating the firm's continued commitment to building expertise in this rapidly growing area

Jamie joins from Shepherd & Wedderburn where he was a member of the projects team working on PPP/PFI Projects. Prior to joining Shepherd & Wedderburn, Jamie trained at Aberdeenshire Council where he worked as a legal advisor to the planning department

Bruce Anderson, Head of the Strategic Land Team at Bell & Scott, said "Our specialist teams cover the full spectrum of property law. With client demand coupled to the current reforms of the planning system we recognised the need to build the planning law capability of the team and the firm. We are delighted Jamie, who has significant experience, has agreed to join us"

Commenting on his new appointment, Jamie said, "I am thrilled to be joining Bell & Scott which is an ambitious and growing specialist property firm. The property focus and commitment to investing in people will allow me to augment my training at Aberdeenshire Council and experience at Shepherd & Wedderburn."
